Foreword

There is no longer any need for a dissertation on the unfeeling, recalcitrant world, as opposed to the shelter of college life. Newspapers and radios rudely make us cognizant of the turmoil into which we step. This book is published to serve as a reminder of more tranquil times. It is childhood's last memento, for college life is, as the pictures of this volume attest, a form of childhood, life's last dawn glow, the semi-security of embryonic adulthood.

It is hoped that this book is a true representation of the successful preparation we have undergone for the more strident, more challenging, more fruitful days ahead.

Dedication

The University of Bridgeport. What does the word mean? Proud new buildings rising sleekly from heaps of mud and cinder blocks? The somber twilight silence of the library? The briskly walking faculty, brief case and thought laden? Intricate wheels of finance, debits and credits, meshing smoothly, continuously behind the grim facade of Cortright? Such things are not U.B., they are only the indispensable strings which give body and tangibility to the essence of our school. We — the students are that essence and it is to us that this book is dedicated.

A U.B. student is a composite of many things, cynic, philosopher, child, a groping seeker of knowledge, a fleet footed reveler, seeker of pleasure. The U.B. student is a paradoxical creature, optimistic in the face of atomic havoc, gloomily cowering in the face of finals, a reader of Freud and of "Peanuts", one who plays Rachmaninoff on the Alumni Hall juke box and watches TV westerns.

Contrary to the opinions expressed by so many reputable periodicals, alumni, and disgruntled parents there is no typical college student-much less a typical UBite.

—The young man on the hardwood court, all sleek virility and graceful strength, the fresh faced coed who cheers for him.

—The girl with the long straight hair and paint splattered blue jeans, carrying her oils.

—The girl in the horn rimmed glasses and polished oxfords who reads Dostoevsky with her lunch.

—The well tailored, smoothspoken boys discussing theories of personality in the corner of Alumni Hall, and those armed with slide rules and keen humor, attacking math problems with gusto until early morning in the law library.

—Girls in stylish clothes that shout newness, living as though they love it and life loves them back.

—The housewife-student wearily driving home, textbooks and a weeks groceries lying among the toys and overshoes in the back seat.

—The English major who cuts classes to go to the literary lectures at Yale.

—The nursing student moving slightly unsurely in a world of sterile procedures, medications and death.

—The industrial design major working all night among the smell of plaster and wood shavings in Norseman Hall.

—The fashion merchandising major, immaculate, competent, and youthfully unconfident on affliation at J. Fox, and the physical education major nervously teaching football to little boys who idolize him.

These and countless others, all walking in different gaits, at different speeds, and along different paths to the same goal of maturity — these students — we students — are U.B.

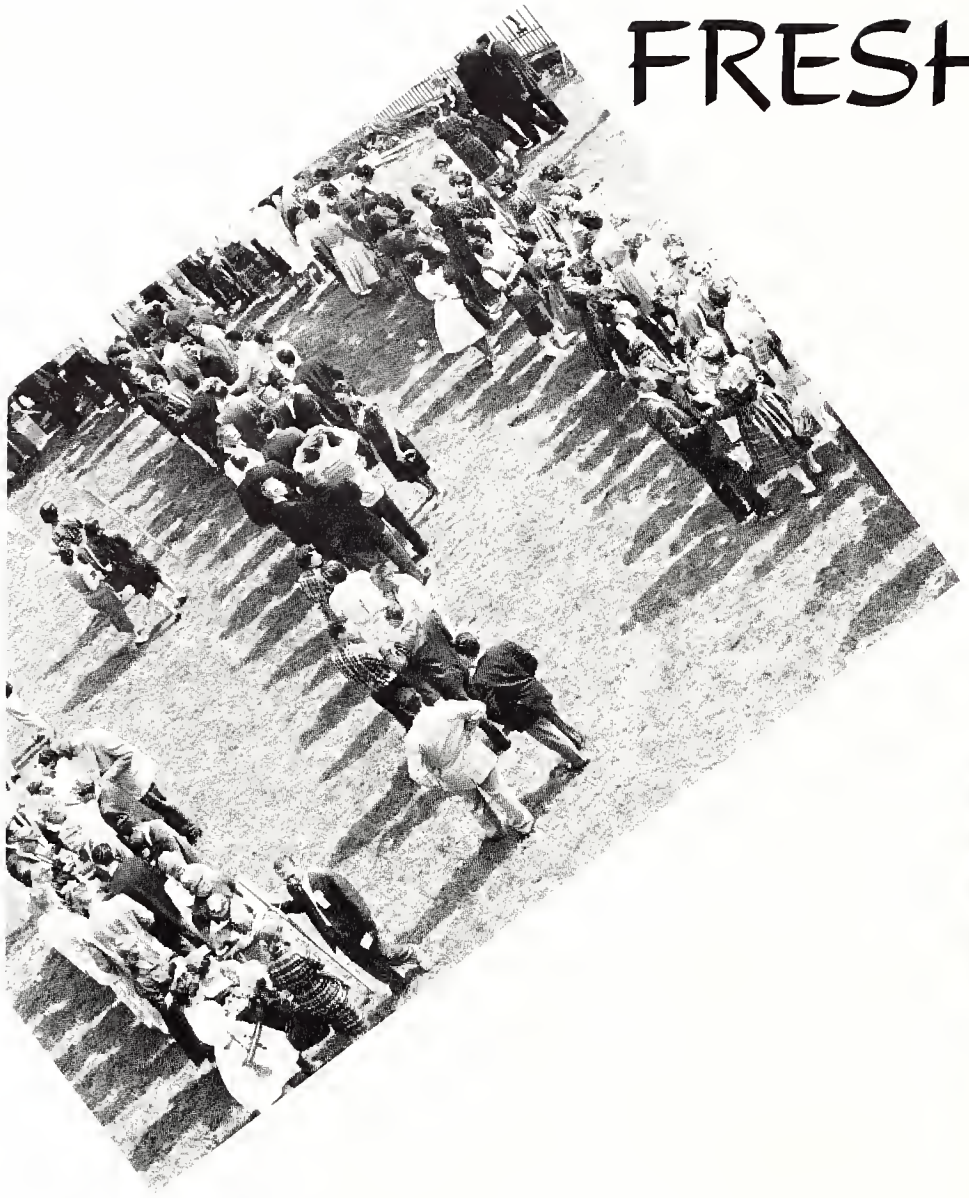
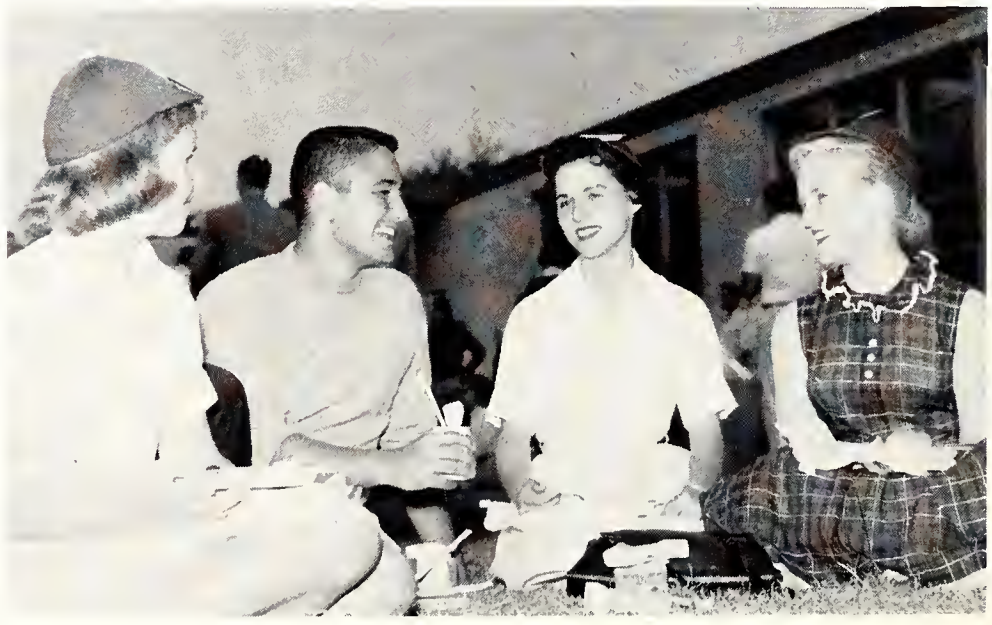
STORY OF THE YEAR

PRESEMESTER WEEKEND-

Who are your campus leaders? Often they are not the verbose coffee gulpers of Alumni Hall whose constant complaint is "I have so much to do". They are not the people who make the "Scribe" every other addition, or those whose self-incited publicity resounds from Dana to Chaffee. Most campus leaders are quiet background people. Their goal is achievement, not recognition. These people are responsible for the functioning mechanism of student activities, but their mechanisms run silently. Once a year these workers are rewarded by attending the Pre-Semester Weekend through the courtesy of the school, which owes so much to them. Early this fall the summer refreshed group arrived at Oak N' Spruce resort in Massachusetts. Here they plunged energetically into swimming, tennis, riding and hiking. At informal conferences students and faculty dscussed plans for this year's behind the scenes work, the fruits of which we all enjoyed this year. A dance and a bonfire sing on Saturday night grandly garnished the weekend.

FRESHMAN WEEK-





Square those beanies! Sing the Alma Mater! Recite the U.B. cheers! These were just a few of the commands given to the incoming freshmen by the Freshman Week Committee. All was in fun though and both groups enjoyed the entire week which consisted of a picnic, convocation, a jazz concert, a movie, a record hop, guided tours, and highlight of the week, the Freshman Ball.

A perfect Woman, nobly plann'd,
To warm, to comfort, and command;
And yet a Spirit still, and bright
With something of angelic light.

HOMECOMING-

SOCCER TEAM HONORS

In past years while wistful co-eds braved the ominous autumnal weather to worshipfully watch the Knights of the Gridiron, while students forsook studies to form breathless crowds in the gym on basketball nights, our unobserved, unheralded, soccer team unobtrusively added unsung glory to our school's athletic record. This year our soccer team blazed its way out of obscurity by placing second in the National Collegiate Athletic Association, loosing only to St. Louis. On November 23, the U. B. Booters defeated the Red Raiders of Colgate, the N. Y. representatives, by a 3 to 2 score. On Thanksgiving day, the team traveled to Storrs for the semi-finals. The outstanding season's record successfully ameliorated student soccer apathy. A spirited pep rally preceeded the UB St. Louis game. Under a benign autumn sky, cheerleaders scampered about the Alumni lawn, urged on by our band.

BRIDGEPORT

PLEDGING—

Inter-Fraternity Council successfully quelled fraternity and sorority friction this year long enough to put into effect the first universal rushing and pledging calendar. After two years of study, IFC finally arrived at a workable plan designed to ease the drain on studies caused by past pledging practices, and to bring all the local Greek letter groups on campus closer in method of functions to national fraternities and sororities. Rushing began on October 5 and continued for four weeks of stags, beer parties, teas, and other such deviously designed social discomforts at which sisters and brothers patronizingly eyed their hopeful counterparts. A two week's "dead period" followed during which those few professors, who kindly remember their own campus days and sympathize with todays college students, obligingly scheduled their mid-terms. November 9th began the two weeks of pledging. Ridiculously outfitted students with alternately hopeful or harrassed faces could be seen belligerently carrying books for the "honorable actives," reluctantly rendering college songs for an apathetic audience in Alumni Hall, or executing other constructive and intellectually nourishing tasks such as having eggs autographed or hectically reciting the greek alphabet in a manner flagrantly sacriligious to the ancients. Hell nights and pledge trips culminated the gruesome weeks of pledging. Pledging fever ravaged the campus spreading even to Fones, School of Dental Hygiene.

The University lessenned its regime of academic austerity and the freshman were seen sheepishly toting enormous "Have your teeth X-rayed" signs as a part of their initiation.

On the whole the first universal rushing and pledging presented a great improvement over the muddle of previous years, but Spring semester brought an unwelcome diversion from the orderly fall program. P.O.C. and S.I.G. carried pledging antics away from the sheltering arms of campus and into the long oppresive arms of the law. Unfortunately local authorities had never been carefree collegiates or if they had been they preferred not to remember. The old axiom "boys will be boys" proved an ineffectual excuse for 1 dozen stolen doughnuts and a "borrowed" car, and local justice raised her ominous impartial head to face the culprets. Not to be outdone by "Bridgeport's finest", Dr. Wolff sternly suspended the two errant fraternities and promptly discontinued spring pledging, mercifully for the pledges, before hell night and pledge trips.

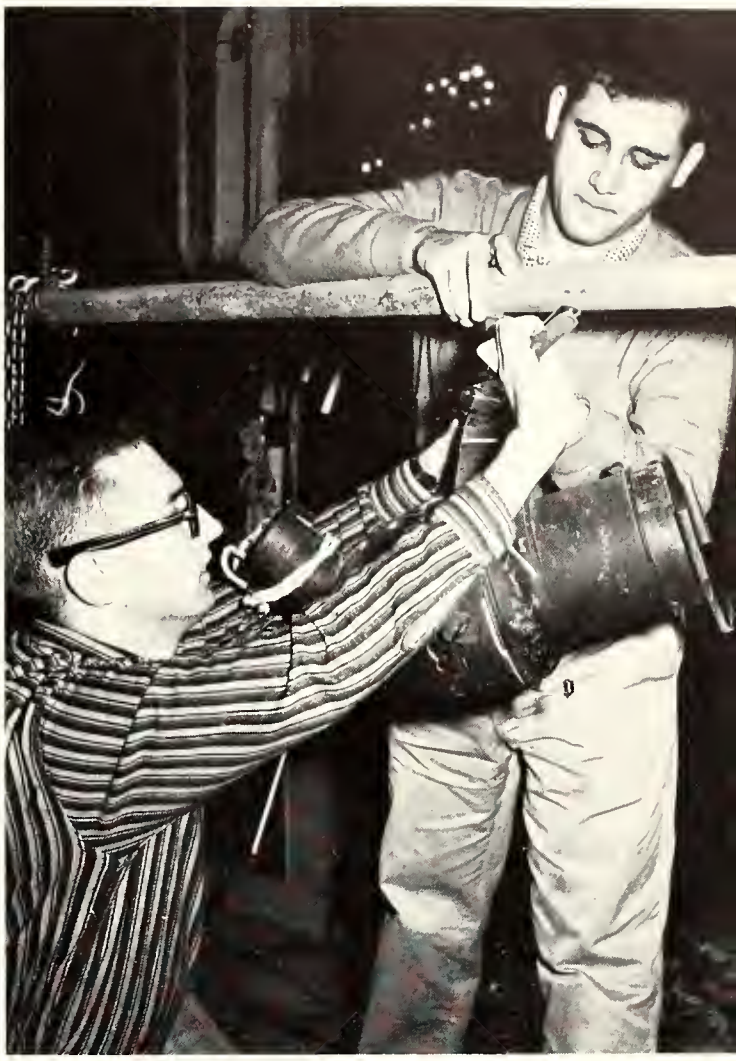
EXIT

CAMPUS THUNDER-

December 4, 1959 — opening night for "The Madame President," — Campus Thunder Production of 1959 marked the culmination of six months' unfaltering effort. Throughout the summer, Director Al Dickason worked with composers William Ajura and Edward Marfiak and choreographer Judy Blair, fitting together the pieces of U.B.'s first full scale musical comedy show. In September, when most U.B.ites were awed by the looming omniscence of a year's school work, 200 of the more dauntless students appeared for tryouts. Every one of the "chosen ones" dissipated by mid-November as members of the cast, identifiable by blood-shot eyes and faltering gaits, stumbled through classes and forced their aching muscles to respond to Mr. D's "one more time" as rehearsals dragged on into the wee hours of the morning.

As the rumble of the waiting audience sank to an anticipating murmur, as the curtain rose, and the '59 geni stepped forth to announce the show, the fruits of all the previous unsuing labor burst on the stage in a chaotic, revue of song and laughter.

One student, in her portrayal of the movie actress who inherits a prep school, scarcely needs mention or applause for the very professional performance of Barbara Wax which in the opinions of many salvaged the show from mundane mecriocrity, will long be remembered.



ALUMNI

Sheltered from the turbulence of Park Place by a fragile iron fence and receding lawn, Alumni Hall wraps the remnants of its dignity about its tall white youthworn shoulders and braces itself against the onslaught of us. Alumni Hall holds a wealth of connotations in its weary frame; for different students it performs a variance of services. _____

For the travel tattered commuters, it provides a place to quietly study or to consolidate mathematical effort.
or an unobtrusive place for quiet thinking.
For the ever accomodating Mary Lika, it is a place of employment, and enjoyment.
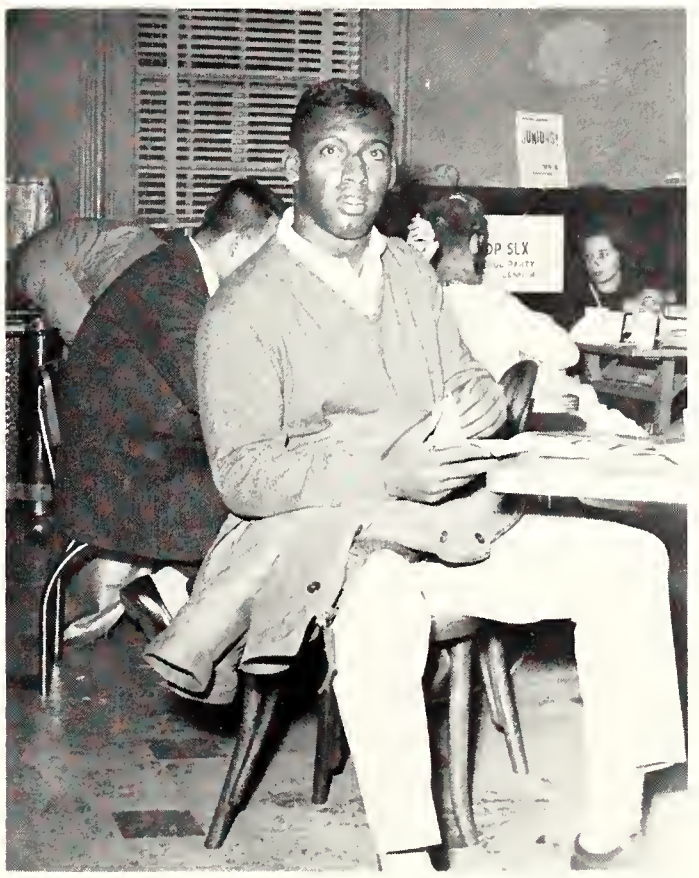
For some Alumni Hall provides a place for the inexpensive execution of togetherness.

HALL



For most students, "Alumni" means friends and familiar faces.
For the more erudite and ambitious Alumni is a place where plans are laid.
For the wistful — a place for dreaming — to be alone in a crowd.

When, dearest, I but think of thee,
Methinks all things that lovely be
Are present, and my soul delighted . . .

CAPPING-

An event of interest only to its participants, the College of Nursing Capping Ceremony, this year grew impressively and in correspondence with the increased enrollment of the College of Nursing. Nineteen sophomores received their white caps, proud symbol of their profession, in preparation of their entering the clinical area of the study at Bridgeport Hospital at the start of their next semester. Junior students received the U.B. emblem on their caps, and Dean Martha P. Jayne proudly presented the seniors, arrayed for the first time in "whites," with their Florence Nightingale Lamps. The ceremony, which took place in the gymnasium, was graced by a performance by the A Capella Choir, and as proof of its appeal, even non-relatives enjoyed the 1959 Milestone.

Late in October, Fones School of Dental Hygiene presented its freshman with their starch white caps in a highly impressive ceremony. Only one who is cognizant of the hard rigorious study and training crammed into the difficult two-year program can appreciate the significance of the small white cap of a D.H. student. It symbolizes not only dedication, but also strength and determination.

. . . Holy, fair, and wise is she,
The heaven such grace did lend her,
That she might admired be.

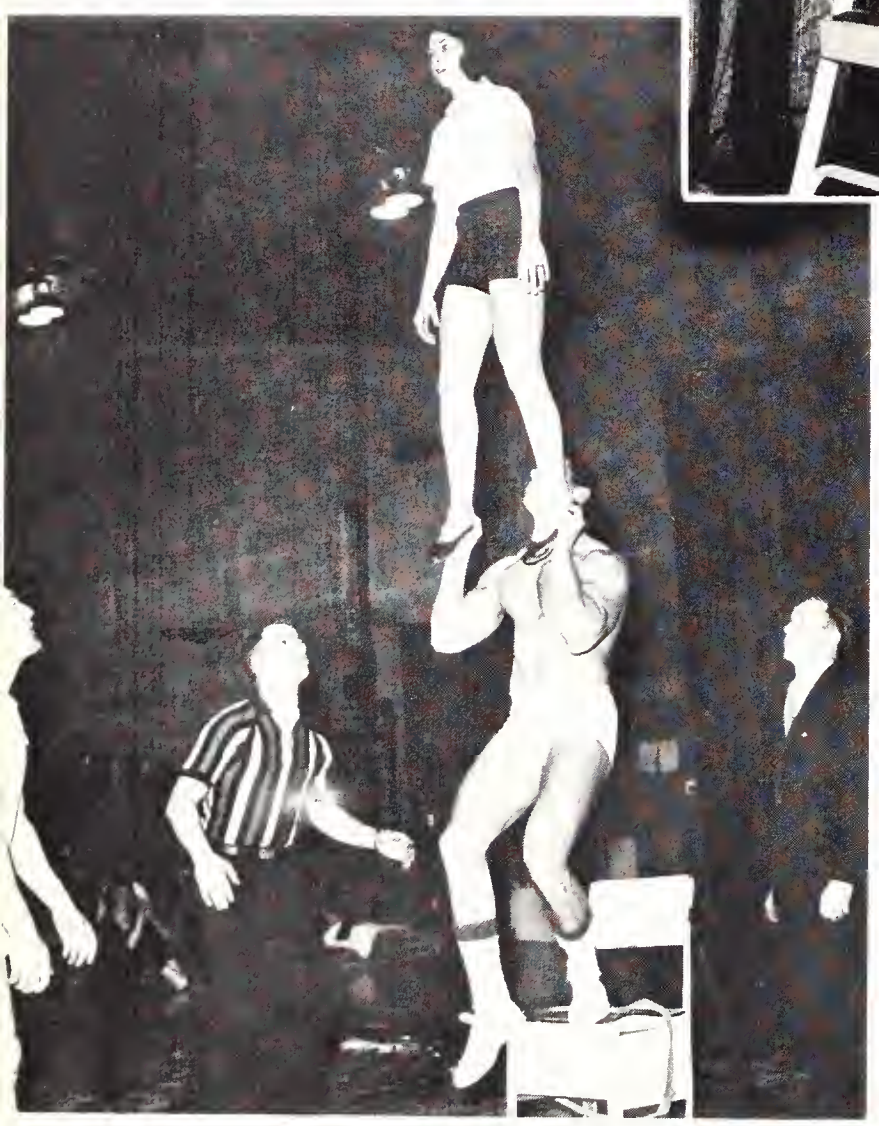
ARNOLD NIGHT-



The annual exhibition of the Arnold College division, held in April, was entitled "Arnold College on Parade". In the university gymnasium, tables were set up displaying the arts and crafts of the various recreation and physical education classes. Small scale models of a swimming pool and football stadium, constructed by the senior physical education majors, were also exhibited.

The evening's activities consisted of a show by the Arnold students, portraying the activity courses of the college. These include such things as: folk, square, and social dance exhibitions, marching, gymnastics, & games of lower organization. The show concluded with a glittering human statuary act depicting in still-life various athletic events.

JACOBY LECTURE

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale delivered a stirring, encouraging talk to a large audience of attentive UBites at this year's Jacoby Lecture. The lecture, preceeded by a faculty processional, proved by its success that the average college student has at times more than beer parties and crib sheets on his mind.

DANA WEEK

Held in late spring of 1960 to celebrate the opening of U.B.'s resplendently equipped science building, Dana Week surpassed all preceding campus activities for student participation. One of the highlights of the week, U.B. Day brought students armed with brooms and rakes, dressed in battle dress of old sweat shirts and blue jeans in a strenuous effort to clean up the campus. The amount of janitor work accomplished was debatable, but the enjoyment of participants was much more obvious than their accomplishments. Greek letter organizations once again drove home the point that they are capable of more than giving wild parties. Their more erudite efforts were displayed in a science fair held on campus. An all University Breakfast, and an all student convocation at which U.B. enmasse, gave thanks to Charles A. Dana were part of the festivities. The week was closed with a Scholars' Dinner at which Charles A. Dana and several eminents of the fields of science, education and medicine were honored. Faculty, students, trustees, and associates dined and together in an unprecedented and highly enjoyable evening.

The Student Council is perhaps the most important student organization on campus since it is directly responsible to the entire student body; its members are selected by University wide elections at the end of the Spring semester. The prime function of the Student Council is to promote and protect the rights and welfare of the students. It also serves to represent the students in any and all matters concerning discipline and ethics. Closer bonds between the students and the administration, the promotion of good citizenship and independent thinking, the fostering of democratic ideals, and the experience of active participation in government procedure, are the rewards of those who actively serve on the Student Council.

This years Student Council undertook during the Fall semester to revise and update their old constitution, which was some ten years old. This monumental effort was carried out during the Fall and Spring semesters and at this writing has already been ratified by the Student Body, in one of the most colorful and dramatic student referendums ever to take place at the University of Bridgeport. Since a majority of 1262 votes were required to ratify the new constitution, the remarkable figures of 1115 yes, 68 no, and 86 abstensions out of a total vote of 1269, serve to indicate the confidence of the Student Body in this document. The legal machinery established under the new Constitution is now in force, and we expect next years Council to be the "best yet".

Other changes carried out under this years Council include: establishing allocation policy for the fair distribution of student funds, enlargement of the Student Council Executive Committee to include Class Presidents, and reactivation of the N.S.A. group at the University of Bridgeport — with the specific reservation that they concern themselves only with national, not international, affairs.

"The pause that refreshes"

It is a lovely early summer's evening. The moon has just striven a cleft through the rain-clouds and only a subtle scent of damp freshly cut grass and flowers in the air remains of the previous storm. This is the type of June evening when submarine races and walks through the park assume an added appeal. There are three of us here on the editor's porch trying to make a yearbook out of the unfinished, untidy scraps of work our dear departed staff has left, or as is tragically more often the case, has not left us. Here amidst heaps of photographs, disarayed coffee cups, 7-Up bottles and one highball glass for the harrassed copy editor, between frantic queries of "didn't he do any senior layouts?" and "well, which color picture?" we ask ourselves if this book will ever be done. If by the grace of God and many more June evenings of work the Wistarian ever does reach the press, it will not have been without the concentrated effort of a few diehards.

We ask no pity or thanks, for we are confident that from this jumble can be born a book of which U B will be proud. If, when you see our product in the fall, you disagree, please reserve your criticism for those of our staff who were not here tonight or many other nights.

From an obscure corner behind the cafeteria the click of typewriters signals the heart beat of student spirit here at the University of Bridgeport. Here in the dim, unpretentious offices students thoughts, hopes, and criticisms are collected and set to print. From this seemingly ineffectual observation point all student activities are notedand compiled.

The Scribe, student newspaper, which is released every Thursday that classes are in session, provides a wash-line on which students air their griefs concerning the administration, their curriculum, or each other. The Scribe relates any events of importance to the University with clarity and trusted authenticity. This year a news survey column, new addition to the Scribe, gave information concerning events on an international scale.

Besides being an interesting publication, the Scribe provides experience for those students interested in making a career of journalism.

On every campus each year a few students become unobtrusively outstanding. After reaching a high degree of scholastic achievement, these people use their residual energy to selflessly serve their school and their community. Each year these students receive due recognition through the annual publication of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. U. B. is proud of these students whose local endeavors have strengthened the school's name and the city's various clubs and organizations, and whose nationwide recognition has brought a measure of prestige to U. B.

The purposes of the Political Relations Forum are to foster opportunities on campus for partaking in the practical application of politics and to stimulate student interest in campus and domestic politics.

With these goals in mind, the Forum traditionally conducts all major campus elections, referendums, and polls, assists campus organizations in drafting and revising their constitutions, sponsors informal lectures and discussions on political subjects, and conducts a parliamentary procedure workshop each semester.

Annually, PHF sends an 18-member delegation to the Connecticut Inter-Collegiate Student Legislation. Representatives from 18 Connecticut colleges and universities meet in the state capitol building at Hartford for a three-day "mock" assembly. This year the university was honored by having David Simpson elected Registration Chairman of CISL and House Majority Leader for the mock session. In addition, Edward Fernandez, Michael Wargo, and Frank Mizak were appointed chairman of "mock" committees.

This year the Forum successfully undertook the task of organizing the campus chapters of the Young Republicans and Young Democrats. Cognizant of forthcoming national presidential elections, PRF conducted a presidential primary poll.

Few of the many people who enjoyed the major University-sponsored social events of the year, few of those couples who danced at Wistaria or breathlessly awaited the announcement of the 1960 Sweetheart Queen were cognizant of the planning and subsequent time consuming and difficult work frosted with countless minor irritations that preceded these events. The bulk of this work was shouldered silently and effectively by the members of the Social Activities Committee. The Alumni Hall Board of Directors governs the activities and programing of the Alumni Hall student center, and supplements student activities on campus.

During the fall semester, the Board was responsible for the appearance of the Salt Lake Dixie Band, Josh White, the well-known folk singer, the Arvon Jazz Quintet, and the Whiffenpoofs. In the spring semester, the Board faced the enormous task of helping to plan the proposed new student union. Fact-finding and fund-raising committees visited other college student-unions in order to gain a more thorough understanding of how they are run.

The 1959-1960 season ended with a banquet and the election of officers for the coming year. The Board of Directors earned new prestige and recognition on the campus through its worthy contributions to campus life.

In keeping with the ideals of service to the school and the community, which were established by the charter members of the organization, Circle K began its activities by participating on the Freshman Week Committee. Refreshment service was provided by the organization at fall and spring registrations, the Freshman Ball and many basketball games. Gymnasium custodial services were also offered by the organization.

Other projects included helping with the Parents Day program, assisting the United Fund, decorating Marina Hall during the Christmas season, helping with a Christmas party for the needy children of Bridgeport and participating on the U.B. Day committee.

The Engineering Society was founded for the purpose of advancing and disseminating knowledge of the theory of engineering, the presentation of a proper perspective of engineering work, and the opportunity to promote a professional consciousness and fellowship among the students of the College of Engineering of the University of Bridgeport.

Part of this purpose was accomplished by a series of tours through industrial plants and laboratories such as General Electric Corporation, Brookhaven National Laboratory, and the Bullard Company. Explanatory lectures accompanied these tours.

Fellowship was integrated by various social functions carried on at different times of the year. These events included the annual dance, the Annual Alumni Banquet, a picnic, and participation in the monthly meetings of various professional societies.

Women's House Government

Women's House Government acts as a spokesman for the dormitory students at the University of Bridgeport. Representatives from all floors of the dormitories provide the girls with a governing body. Organization, activities, and infractions of rules are discussed and in cases of liability, corrections are instituted. This organization is the mediating position between the students and the administration under the guidance of Dr. Claire Fulcher.

The Honor Council represents the governing body of the Honor System. This body controls the regulations concerning curfews, and entering and leaving the dormitories. The six members are chosen by the Residence Assistants, Women's Dormitory Counselers, and the Dean of Women.

They function under the guidance of Dr. Claire Fulcher. The Honor System is a ramification of Women's House Government, and offers students guilty of violation a chance to defend themselves before their peers and imbibes dormitory regulations with new meaning.

The College of Nursing, Registered Nurse Association, came into existance to meet the needs of a growing program for registered nurse students.

Each semester, a welcoming tea has been held for all new registered nurse students. In May of each year, an annual celebration in honor of the graduating students and an annual banquet has been planned.

With many future plans ahead the association looks forward to the time when the "white jackets with gold and black emblems" will be recognized all over the campus.

U.B. students interested in the Republican Party, this year formed a Young Republican Club. The object of the club is to bring young people into the Republican Party and to foster and encourage the activities of the Republican Party. To fulfill these objectives the U.B.Y.R. club has become active in state, county, and local party affairs. The coming campaign will find the U.B.Y.R. club actively supporting at the election of Republican candidates to office.

The Christian Association is made up of students from several religious denominations. Its purpose is to stimulate thought and action in higher education from the Christian point of view. It sponsors convocations, study and discussion groups, and lectures. The association is related to the Student Christian Movement and is sponsored by the Council of Churches of Greater Bridgeport.

Christian Association

The Canterbury Association is one of the newest organizations on campus. It is a national student organization, conducted under the auspices of the Episcopal church. Its purpose is to promote Christian fellowship through social service, educational activities and worship.

Canterbury Club

Newman Club

The main purpose of the Newman Club is to offer spiritual guidance and social functions to the student. The organization has the largest student membership on campus, offering social activities throughout the year. The Mass, followed by breakfast, is offered every Sunday morning in the chapel. For the first time Mass was said daily during the Lenten season. The Chaplain of the club is Rev. Father McGough who supervises all activities. Rev. Father Russo, from Notre Dame High School, usually lectures on the college student and religion.

Angelo Palumbo, Donna Sellick, Ronald Osborne, President, Father Holbrook, Advisor.

Hillel

Hillel, a religious organization, was founded at the University of Bridgeport in 1955. A meeting is held each week under the direction of its advisor, Professor Charles Jacobs. Speakers and social activities are scheduled throughout the year. This organization has been very successful in the past year.

Green's Garnishers

Many of you have never really looked to see who serves you coffee while you still have sand in your eyes, or who makes that rare cheeseburger special to help you get through that sociology class, or pours you the lemonade to help cool off your brow. These are the personalities behind the shelves of "cuisine." Next time you "draw one," look at those faces and make them familiar.

Student Spirit

Student Spirit, a subcommittee of the Student Council, has as its main function planning the Homecoming Weekend. This year for the first time, the Homecoming parade traveled through the business center of Bridgeport. On Saturday, judging of the dormitory displays preceeded the parade and football game. Eli's Chosen Six performed in a spirited jazz concert at Alumni Hall and Josh White performed Sunday before the presentation of awards for the winning float and dormitory display.

Student Spirit made its biggest contribution by their vivid and enthusiastic support of football, basketball and soccer games.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association is open to all sports-minded U.B. girls, and provides them with a program of various athletic activities. Teams from dormitories, sororities and commuting areas participated in sports events. In the fall the W.A.A. held its annual banquet for awarding trophies. The large enrollment of the organization has made it an active and prominent organization.

The aggressive Purple Knights opened the 1959 football season by scoring in every quarter but the third to upset a strong Norwich team. The highly-spirited charges of Coach "Kay" drew first blood in the opening period when fullback Tom Shea plunged through the maroon and gold wall from the 1-yard line. An interception by Walt Czekay in Norwich territory set up the game's initial TD, which put Bridgeport in front, 6-0. Before the first period had ended, however, the Horsemen completed a 26-yard touchdown pass to tie the score.

In the second quarter, lineman Vito Rallo recovered a Norwich fumble at midfield. Quarterback George Muzea hit Shea with a 20-yard pass to the 16-yard line. On the next two plays, the hard-running Shea carried the ball to the three. Muzea then sped around his left-end for the second Bridgeport score. The conversion pass from Muzea to Shea was completed. At half time UB led, 14-6.

In the final period, sophomore John Moran recovered a loose ball on the 50-yard line. The Bridgeport front wall proved to be too strong for the Horsemen as the Knights galloped with ease to the Norwich three. Muzea then carried the ball over the goal line by rushing around his right-end for the final score of the game.

In the Lycoming game, a Walt Czekay touchdown pass to Dick Whitcomb in the second period was the only UB score. The Knights were not able to stop the fine Lycoming offense which rolled up 30 points and crushed our chances of gaining a second consecutive victory.

Twenty-five hundred fans watched the Purple and White come from behind twice in the first half to tie the powerful Southern Connecticut team. Quarterback Dick Roth completed TD passes to Whitcomb and Carey to keep UB in contention in the first half of their game against the best small college squad in the East. The New Haven team, however, broke away in the second half and scored a 38-12 triumph over the Knights.

With Muzea, Moran, Lynch, and Londergan on the injury list Hofstra found no difficulty in rolling to a 47-0 victory over the weakened Purple Wave.

Quarterback Muzea gave UB a 14-8 half time lead against American International College by completing second period end-zone passes to Whitcomb and Shea. The A.I.C. offense, however, connected for 24 points in the final quarter to dump the Knights, 40-14.

Halfback Tom Shea plunged three yards through left-tackle to score the initial TD in the first period of the Upsala game. Tom then registered two more points for the Purple and White by completing the conversion pass to Dick Whitcomb. The UB lead was shortlived, however, as the Blue and Grey tallied twice in the second period. The Vikings held their lead throughout the game.

A 4-yard plunge over right-tackle culminated a sustained 50-yard drive by the Knights and gave them a second period 6-0 lead over Northeastern. The Huskies then tightened their defense and held UB scoreless for the remainder of the game. Meanwhile the Red and Black offense smashed through the purple wall for a total of 21 points. The loss was the sixth straight for the injury-riddled Knights.

The New Britain game, smeared with the slippery mud and rain at Arute Field, ended in a scoreless tie. The weather conditions allowed the ball to be moved only 200 yards during the entire contest.

The final game of the season ended in sweet victory for the Knights as a result of some quick thinking by the alert Rudy Valentine. With Brandeis leading 8-6 in the closing minutes of the game, the determined UB line steamrolled the Judges' front wall and blocked a punted ball. The loose pigskin was then scooped up by the 230-pound Valentine. The strong lineman carried the ball 12 yards for the game winning tally.

Although this season wasn't very successful, the will to win and the desire to play the game never disappeared. This was proven by the final win over Brandeis. Some might call this luck — we know it was a never-ending determination on the part of the entire team. As Grantland Rice once said, "It matters not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game."

GOOD LUCK TO THE PURPLE KNIGHT
OF 1960

The powerful UB Freshman squad outrushed and outpassed a strong Connecticut team in the Knight's first game of the 1959 season. The Purple and White, however, had to settle for a 6-6 tie against the Huskies, despite the brilliant line performances of Jim Lynch, Bob Bresloff, and Pat Pinto.

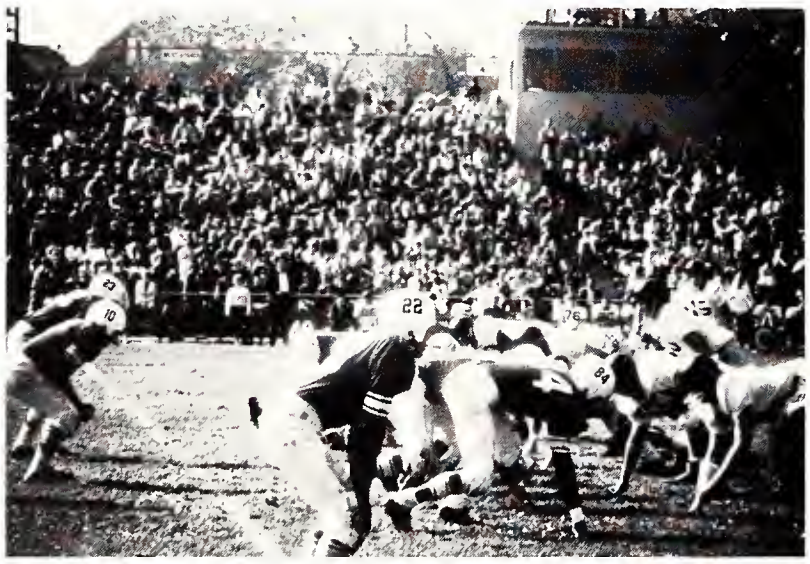
With UB trailing, 7-0, in its game against Southern Connecticut, halfback Norm Pederson broke loose for a 60-yard TD run. Bill Pearson tied the score for the Knights by booting the conversion point. Later in the game, Pederson sped 45 yards to pay dirt for his second touchdown. The speedy halfback's tally gave UB the 13-7 victory.



With the flashy Pederson on the injury list, the Bridgeport Freshmen suffered their first defeat of the season. Dean Jr. College handed the Knights a 13-0 shutout. Nevertheless, Frank Hudce and Bob Lesco played well for the losers.

The Long Island University Freshmen never saw daylight when they met the Purple Knights on the gridiron. The UB offense, headed by quarterbacks Sousa and Davins, crushed the L.I.U. squad with 37 points while the Bridgeport defense held the opponents scoreless.

Hofstra proved to be too strong for the Purple and White. The Flying Dutchmen handed the UB

Freshmen a 24-6 loss in the final game of the season. Fullback Dick Conetta performed well for the Knights who completed the schedule with a 2-2-1 mark.

During the fall season of 1959, UBites had the pleasure of viewing the brilliant performances of the best athletic team that has ever represented the university. Coach John McKeon's soccer aces booted their way to the NCAA finals only to be defeated by St. Louis in the championship game. The Purple and White had been undefeated in 11 games before they faced the western college. A victory in that final game would have given Bridgeport its first national championship. It is no surprise to discover that the UB greats were coached by the experienced McKeon. He has collected an outstanding 51-15-2 record in his 7 years as the Bridgeport soccer coach.

The Knights opened the season by breaking their own scoring record against Hartford at Seaside Park. Jack Coogan booted three goals to lead UB to a 10-1 slaughter over the Capital City team. The previous high for the Purple and White for a single game had been 9 points.

Goalie Fred Mayer was given credit for shutting out the next two teams on the Bridgeport schedule. John Majesko scored all 3 points in the victory over Fairleigh-Dickinson. The Knights also overpowered Hofstra, 6-0.

After beating Connecticut by 5 goals, the Knights took on a strong Boston team. Ev Merritt's 3 tallies gave Bridgeport a 4-1 lead at the end of the third period. The determined Terriers, however, scored twice in the final quarter. It was the outstanding defensive performances of Nick Wirth, Tasso Chirogianis, and Co-Captain Ev Hart that finally shut the door on Boston and allowed the McKeon booters to win their fifth straight.

Ev Merritt went the length of the field unassisted to score the first goal against Yale. John Majesko scored the game's other two goals in Bridgeport's 3-0 triumph. Mayer was credited with his third shutout.

The Purple Knights finished the season's schedule with three consecutive 4-1 victories. Trailing throughout the first half, UB had to come from behind to topple Albany State Teachers College. Sophomores Bob Dikranian and John Olson teamed up with veteran Hans Zucker to score the 4 Bridgeport points. Olson and Merritt tallied three times each in the UB victories over Springfield and the U.S. Coast Guard.

The Knights finished the schedule with 9 wins and no defeats. As a result, they were chosen over Harvard, Trinity, and Williams to represent New England in the NCAA tournament.

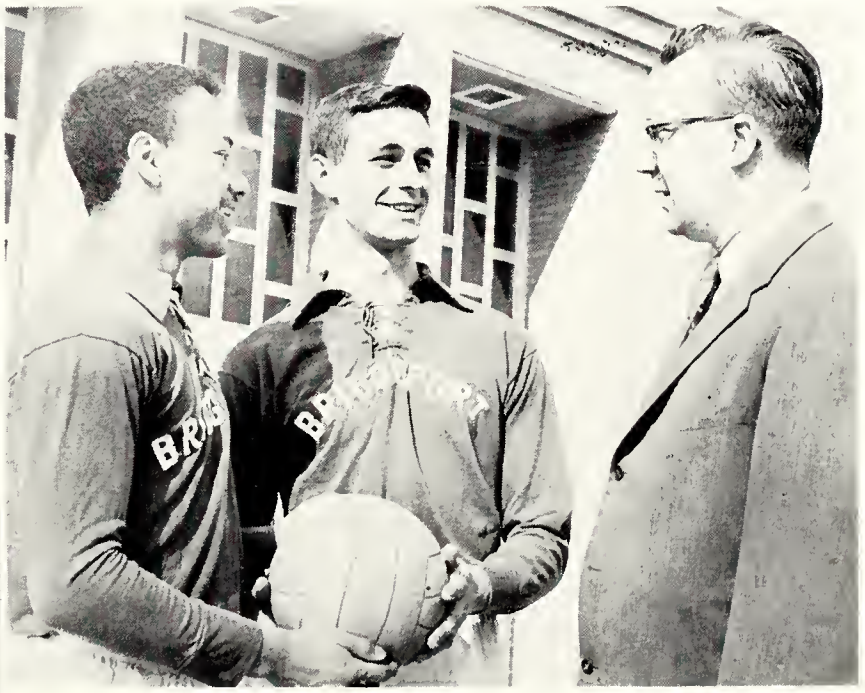
Hans Zucker turned an Ev Merritt pass into a Bridgeport score in the first period of the UB-Colgate playoff game. Co-Captain Kuhlmann booted a penalty shot for another point. Colgate, however, smashed through the Purple and White defense for two goals in the final frame to tie the score and put the match into overtime. It took 3 minutes and 5 seconds of the additional period for Bob Dikranian to bring victory to the Knights with his game-winning kick.

In the eighth overtime period, with the score Bridgeport 1 and West Chester 1, John Majesko put UB into the final game of the tournament by beating the New Yorkers on a successful boot. Hans Zucker set up the play which sent the Knights into the championship game.

The New England Regional champs grabbed a quick 1-0 lead against St. Louis when Majesko scored early in the first period. The powerful squad from the west, however, wasted no time in sneaking two scores into the UB net to give themselves a 2-1 lead.

If ever a team could possibly consider sitting back and resting on its laurels, the 1959 UBite soccer squad is that team. Undefeated during the regular season, adding new records to the books and just missing a national championship in the N.C.A.A. finals — a distinction never before realized at UB — these are the things that made the school, the state and the nation sit up and take notice.

Sophomore flash John Olson put the Purple and White back in the game by tying the score at 2-all. When St. Louis scored again at 12:15 of the second period, however, the long Bridgeport winning streak came to an end. The third point was all that was needed to win the game, although the victors tallied twice more in the final quarter.



Thus, the McKeon all-stars had to settle for the second best position in the country.

Five players on the UB squad were chosen for individual honors. Hans Zucker, John Majesko, and Jim Kuhlmann were selected for the first All-New England team. Ev Merritt made the second squad and Bob Dikranian was chosen as an honorable mention.

Freshman Soccer

Although the UB Freshman soccer team was not able to win a game during the 1959 season, the squad showed a great deal of determination. The Knights lost each of their first two games by a single point. Hofstra edged Bridgeport 5-4 and Danbury squeaked out a 2-1 victory. In its third match of the year, the Purple and White found the Yale Frosh too strong as the Blue Elis shut out UB, 4-0. Although the Bridgeport Freshman team ended the season with a poor record, the squad graduated a few outstanding candidates for next year's varsity.

A capacity crowd of 2,500 fans filled the UB gym as the Purple Knights took on the popular St. John's cagers in the opening game of the 1959-60 basketball season. The visiting team, which had been given a pre-seasonal rating of thirteenth best in the country, was not able to shake lose the determined UB five until late in the third quarter. The fine shooting of Laemel, Wysocki, and Lazar kept the underdogs within a few points of St. John's until the giant Indians went on a scoring spree late in the game.

The Purple and White were again the pre-game underdogs when they stepped onto the court with Maryland State. Bridgeport, however, jumped to a quick 10-5 lead after the first three minutes of play. By half time, with UB in front, 44-30, it was evident that an upset was in the making. The victory over Maryland State pushed the Knights to the .500 mark. Throughout the remainder of the season they never dropped below that point.

Jumping Joe Yasinski hit the nets for 34 points in Bridgeport's 117-102 triumph over Long Island. Don Feeley and Dan Morello teamed up to score 14 consecutive points in the Fairleigh-Dickinson game. The 7-basket attack pulled UB ahead of FD after the latter had led throughout most of the first quarter. The Knights, who never lost their lead, went on to score their third straight victory, 102-87.

Bridgeport also had a difficult time warming up against American International College. During the first 10 minutes of play A.I.C. had built a solid 31-13 lead. As the game progressed, the Purple and White closed the gap, but time ran out on the Knights as they were within four points of tying the game.

UB registered its fourth and fifth victories of the season against Springfield and Brooklyn. The Springfield game was a close battle for 3½ quarters. Then the Knights broke loose with a 19-point lead and went on to beat the maroon and white, 88-72. Sharp-shooting Bob Laemel was the top scorer in the Brooklyn battle with 31 points.

After losing to Central Connecticut, 96-84, Bridgeport took on a strong Hartford team. Co-Captain Joe Colello came off the bench with the score tied at 75-all and sunk 5 straight points. The Purple and White then went on to take the upstaters, 89-83.

With less than four minutes remaining in the Fairfield game, UB enjoyed a 14-point 65-51 lead. The aggressive Stags then caught fire and tied the score at 73 all. The UB lead disappeared so quickly that when Bill Shin sank the game-winning basket for Fairfield in the last five seconds many found it difficult to believe that the Stags had won.

The New York A.C. had to rip the nets for 124 points in order to stop the high-scoring Knights. UB reached the 105 mark in losing to the all-stars from the big city. The loss to Iona was Bridgeport's third straight.

Eighteen hundred fans watched the Purple and White snap out of their slump by whipping Adelphi, 103-67. At one five minute period during the game, Joe Yasinski and Tony Granger combined their talents to score 18 UB points and assure Bridgeport of the victory.

Laemel's 34 points led UB in its 98-90 triumph over C.C.N.Y. The St. Francis cagers were Bridgeport's next victims as the Knights kept the ball rolling with their third consecutive win. By controlllng the boards and making use of the fast break, UB had little difficulty in defeating the U.S. Coast Guard, 80-67. Hunter and Rider were soon conquered by the high-riding Knights, who held first place in the Tri-State League. Bridgeport came from behind to beat Yeshiva by scoring the last 11 points of the game. Bob Laemel's jump shot with three seconds left in the Southern Connecticut battle gave the Bridgeport courtmen their eighth straight victory.

Basketball fans filled the Fairfield University gym to the doors for the second battle between the Stags and the Knights. There was more significance to this game than the traditional rivalry between the two neighboring universities. Bridgeport held first place in the Tri-State League. Fairfield, being only one game behind the league-leaders, needed the victory to tie for the number one position. UB, however, was a strong pre-game favorite since the Stags had lost the services of three starters through injuries. When the action began many were surprised to see how well the Fairfield bench played against the powerful Bridgeport five. As the game progressed the Stags grew stronger. The Fairfield lead grew and by the end of the game the underdogs had a comfortable 22-point margin. The Stags' victory tied the two Connecticut teams for the Tri-State League lead.

The playoff game, held at the UB gym, was a nip and tuck battle all the way. The Purple and White jumped to a 20-11 lead during the first few minutes. Fairfield then enjoyed a scoring spree which put them within a point of tying the score at 31 all. Joe Yasinski led UB's second strong drive as the Knights pulled ahead again, 41-34. By half time Bridgeport led by 10, 55-45. The aggressive Stags came on strong in the first few minutes of the second half and soon had taken the lead, 64-62. The teams then played within a couple of points of each other until Joe Colello broke the monotony by scoring 10 points in less than two minutes. The sudden outburst by the scrappy Bridgeport Co-Captain gave UB an 85-77 lead.

As the game drew to an end, Fairfield got its second wind and soon overcame the Knights again. Bridgeport made many attempts to catch the red-hot Stags but the final buzzer sounded with the visitors out in front, 100-94.

Although we did not win the Tri-State League championship, UBites were proud of the fine performances of their 1959-60 basketball team. Bob Laemel, Ed Wysocki, Joe Yasinski, and Bob Lazar all had seasonal averages in double figures. The team, which averaged 91.8 points per game against other Tri-State cagers, won 14 out of 22 contests. Don Feeley built up a reputation as the best ball halk in the league. In the Brooklyn game, Bob Laemel sunk his one-thousandth UB point and became the fifth man to join the coveted "1,000 Point Club" of the University.

Joe Troiano, Doug Holmquist, and Roger Turpin each ripped the nets for double figures as the Knights edged Bassick High School, 75-73, in the first game on the Bridgeport schedule. The local Lions enjoyed a short-lived 37-36 lead at half time. In the latter part of the game UB pushed itself in front with a fair margin of points. Bridgeport, however, was not able to break away to a comfortable lead. The Lions, who played within a few points of the Knights throughout the contest, fell only a basket short of tying the game as the final buzzer sounded.

A loss to the Army Plebes was followed up by the UB five with a close 72-70 victory over Fairleigh-Dickinson. The Seaman cagers then lost to Naugatuck High School and Long Island University before they beat Stratford High School's North Paraders.

The Knights registered their fourth win of the campaign as Co-Captains Sullivan and Troiano led their team to a 15-point victory over Brooklyn. Stratford evened their series with UB at 1-1 by upsetting the Bridgeport courtmen 82-72 in the second match of the season between the two squads.

Many records were broken in the Knights' 110-97 triumph over Central Connecticut. Joe Troiano set a new UB mark for the most points scored by an individual in a single game by netting a total of 38. Bridgeport's 110 points and 50 field goals were two other marks never before achieved by UB Freshmen. The 207 points scored in the game also made the record books.

The Bridgeport team kept their winning form by registering three more consecutive victories. Hartford, Fairfield, and Adelphi were the victims of the sudden string of wins by the Knights. Jerry Sullivan was the top scorer in the Hartford game while Joe Troiano paced the UB five in the other two battles. The Purple and White played one of their finest games of the year against Fairfield, their traditional rivals.

C.C.N.Y. broke through the Bridgeport defense for 110 points to put an end to the 4-game UB win streak. Roger Turpin and Doug Holmquist sank 24 and 19 points respectively for the losers.

The Knights added two more victories to their record by beating the Y Sportsmen and the U.S. Coast Guard. A lucky tap in the last two seconds of play scored the two points which kept Bridgeport from taking their third straight. With the Purple and White in front of the Chesterfield Satisfiers 82-81, a loose basketball was accidentally tapped through the visitors' net giving the Satisfiers the one-point victory.

Rider and Southern Connecticut were conquered by Seaman's high-riding cagers. Bridgeport, however, was not able to stop the strong Yale Frosh. The Elis registered, 104-73.

The final game of the season against Fairfield was typical of the battles between the Stags and the Knights. The two teams played within a few points of each other throughout the contest. When the final buzzer sounded, the score was tied at 70-70. A Fairfield man, however, had been fouled during the last second of play. The lone Stag on the foul line scored with his second shot giving the home team the victory.

A five-run fifth inning gave Coach DiSpirito's 1960 baseball squad an opening game victory over Hunter College. Ralph King was credited with the win. Bob Laemel and Catcher Darula were the batting stars for the Knights. The centerfielder went 2 for 3 at the plate while King's battery mate belted in three runs.

Seven unearned runs cost the Purple and White the L.I.U. game. UB's poor fielding and pitching enabled the Long Island team to whip Bridgeport in the 14-9 slugfest.

Pitcher King notched his second win of the season against Seton Hall. The amazing Darula collected 8 more R.B.I.s and 5 hits in 5 appearances at the plate as UB smashed New Britain. The Purple and White extended their win streak as they knocked off Danbury, Adelphi, Central Connecticut, and Iona in succession. In the Adelphi game, Captain Giampolo hit a 420-foot home run and his redhot team mate, Darula, boosted his batting average to .702 with four more hits. The sizzling bat of UB's fabulous catcher banged out three more hits against Hartford. Matt Kaishian pitched the 9-4 victory over the upstaters as the Purple and White took their seventh straight.

Bridgeport's 4-7 loss to Upsala did more than end UB's long string of victories. The defeat began a series of setbacks for the Knights. The cold Purple Wave was able to win only one more contest during the remainder of the season. Coach DiSpirito was forced to use his bench a great deal during the second half of the schedule since many of the Bridgeport first string were sidelined with injuries. Despite the poor finish, UB ended the season with a fair record.

First Baseman Ev Thorpe must be given credit for one of the finest batting performances in Bridgeport's history. The flashy infielder broke a New England record by hitting successfully in 27 consecutive games.

The UB Varsity Track team began the season by taking their first two meets. The Knights downed Hunter, 81-59 and outscored Southern Connecticut, 68-63. In Bridgeport's last three contests, however, the Purple and White were beaten by Fairleigh-Dickinson, Fairfield, and Adelphi.

Co-Captain Jim Kuhlmann provided the year's best individual performance when he scored 30 points in a single meet. He captured first place in six divisions. The UB ace are scored in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, the 220 low and high hurdles, and the high and broad jumps. Kuhlmann's time of 17.2 seconds for the high hurdles was a new record.

The Freshman Track team followed the same pattern as the varsity. After they had crushed Southern Connecticut, 62-42, they wound up the schedule by losing to Fairleigh-Dickinson and Fairfield.

There are many people who, throughout the year, work in quiet ways behind the scenes of the production of the Wistarian. These are people who, when asked to help in some way, which may not be particularly easy or always interesting, did not hesitate to do their best.

First and foremost we would like to thank the yearbook photographers, Jannetty Studios (Mr. and Mrs. Jannetty and Jay Jannetty) for all the extra time and energy put in on the various facets of our complicated production. Without their help the 1960 Wistarian would surely have been less than it is.

Our hats are also off to our publishers, Bradbury, Sayles, O'Neill, Hurley & Thomson and especially Mr. Victor H. O'Neill who through all the crises hasn't faltered in his obligations, nor in his extensive aid to the editors of the Wistarian.

May we take this opportunity to thank Harriet's Bridal and Gown Shop for the beautiful gowns in which the queens appear.

Every year there are certain interested persons around campus who are not on the Wistarian staff but who are very happy to help in any way they can. Among these are Mrs. Marian Hotchkiss, Miss Mary Lika, Miss Carole Halkovic, and Mr. George Stanley.

Our thanks to Fred Nathans who so aptly did the cartoon divider pages.

Also thanks to the many fraternities and sororities who talentedly worked with us in the layout of their individual sections.

Our thanks go to the few advertisers who took enough interest in the University of Bridgeport production to sponsor part of it.

And last, but far from least, we would like to thank Mr. Victor Muniec, Director of Public Relations, who in the absence of our regular advisor has ably served in the same office as well as withstanding the great deal of pestering from our various editors looking for a picture that he might have taken some time ago.

We would also like to thank the many people who have contributed to the production of the 1960 Wistarian, but who need no thanks for theirs is self-rewarding.
